Happy Termination of a Republican Joint-Representative Split. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Oct. 17.-The joint Representative muddle which resulted in the Republicans putting two candidates in the field from the district of Jefferson, Clark and Floyd counties, was cleared away to-night by both candidates withdrawing and Gen. Jasper Packard being selected to run for the office. The agreement is warmly indorsed by all factions, and will result in a sweeping victory for Gen. Packard. After the Madison convention the party found itself with two tickets. the party found itself with two tickets.

THE FLAG OF ANARCHY

Flaunted at a Republican Parade by a Blackford County Farmer.

special to the Indianapolis Journal. HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Oct. 17 .- While a big delegation was en route to this city last Wednesday to attend the Republican rally, a Democratic farmer living west of town showed his true colors. From the window he displayed a red flag as the Republican parade passed by. This is the first case so far in Blackford county where the emblem of the reds, mob law and crime has been displayed.

Dr. T. I. Bowles, of Muncie, addressed the Bryan Club of this city at the opera house Friday evening, and it is estimated that he made no less than thirty Republication. that he made no less than thirty Republican votes. His assertions were so preposterous that they were the laughing stock terous that they were the laughing stock even of some of the Democrats. During his rabid harangue he said: "The Republican party has filled the prisons, insane asylums and other institutions of the United States, and the 'crime of '73' has caused states, and the 'crime of '73' has caused more crimes and taken more lives than the var of the rebellion." Even the Democrats are ashamed of the speech, and his raving and ranting were spoken or as being pitiful, coming from a man in his senses.

GREAT RALLY AT REDKEY.

Gov. Hastings, of Pennsylvania, Addresses a Crowd of 20,000. secial to the Indianapolis Journal.

DUNKIRK, Ind., Oct. 17.-This has been a great day for Republicans of Jay, Blackford and Delaware counties. Fully 20,000 turned out for a tri-county rally, and heard Governor Hastings, of Pennsylvania, make a great speech. The Governor captured the vast audience by his opening re- gan coming in at 1 o'clock, when a delegamarks. He said the weather outside looked about as gloomy as the chances of William Bryan's party electing him President. He then entered into the discussion of the money question, using the most convincing arguments, and the blows he gave the theory of free silver were a benefit to the gold-standard cause. Senator LaFollette, Hon. F. McCullough and Hon. J. P. C. Shanks each gave a short address while waiting for the Governor, who missed connection at Decatur, but was soon provided with a special train. Portland came 1,000 strong, and Hartford City, Eaton, Albany, Pennville, Redkey and other surrounding towns each contributed large delegations. Judge Marsh, of Winchester, held an evening meeting in the opera house.

Putnam Democrats Exposed. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Oct. 17 .- Hon. George W. Faris, of Terre Haute, candidate for re-election to Congress in this district, and Hon. Enoch G. Hogate, candidricks counties, closed a week's work in this county at the courthouse to-night. The gentlemen are both making strong speeches this year, and their audience to-night completely packed the courthouse. At Center schoolhouse, Floyd township, last night Hon. Milroy Gordon, former chairman of the county Democratic central committee, made a speech for sound money in which he denounced the Chicago platform for not being Democratic and espoused the Repub-lican platform of this year. He stated he would vote for McKinley, and he advised all his fellow-Democrats to do likewise, On Tuesday night next all the Republican local speakers in this county will hold a meeting at the courthouse and will devote the entire meeting to a discussion of county affairs. The Republicans have brought to light a county debt of $20,000 which the Democrats claimed did not exist and the publicans claimed did not exist, and the public is greatly interested in the exposure.

Peru Had a Great Rally. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

PERU, Ind., Oct. 17 .- Peru streets were with enthusiastic Republicans. For a week past the Republicans have been advertising a grand rally, with Hon. Thomas B. Reed, of Maine, as the principal orator, but yesterday afternoon it was learned that Mr. Reed was ill and could not be This news spread, and many in surrounding towns who had intended coming to Peru changed their minds. The local managers felt downcast this morning, but by 10 o'clock the people began to come in, and by noon the streets were lined. A great many came on trains and large del gations of farmers from the surrounding country. There were more Miami county Republicans in Peru to-day than there were before in years. Conservative esti-mates place the crowd at 10,000. There were at least 1,000 men in line in the monster parade this morning, including bands and marching clubs, cavalry delegations and wagons. The meetings were held in a mammoth tent, and tremendous crowds heard the speeches. This afternoon Hon. H. D. Estabrook, of Omaha, spoke. The speaker of the evening was Hon. G. M. Lambertson, of Lincoln, Neb., and the crowd was delighted. One of the greatest features of the demonstration was the fireworks parade. The pyrotechnic display was beautiful, and many fine transparencies were carried. The L. E. & W. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENSBURG, Ind., Oct. 17 .- Rev. T. J. He was followed by Oscar G. Miller, of this city.
This afternoon Judge D. W. Howe, of Indianapolis, addressed a large audience at the opera house. The Judge is not a stranger here, having married a daughter of R. A. Hamilton, of this county. He dwelt principally on the causes and remedies of hard times, the principal cause, he thought, being too much Grover and too little clover. He was very sarcastic on the Populist par-ty theory of finance. He closed his remarks by saying: "What shall we do with Bryan after the election? Send him to Ne braska and let him speak to women only which would be too hard on the women? Send him to Kansas, the hotbed of Populism, where he could divide his time with Mary Yellin's Lease.'

Lovett Returns from Kentucky.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. VEVAY, Ind., Oct. 17.-Hon. John W. Lovett, of Anderson, who has been campaigning in Kentucky, where he delivered thirty-three speeches for the Republicans, stopped off here last night and addressed an audience limited only by the large courtroom. The speech was an elequent, logical and convincing argument and was received with approval and repeated applause.

Near the close of the meeting thirty or forty Bryanites crowded into the room and arranged themselves in the side aisle against the wall, and when the name of the Popocratic candidate was incidentally mentioned they sent up a feeble cheer. Without hesitation the speaker said: "That yell seems to indicate that Bryan has some followers. Let us see how about McKin-ley." A rousing cheer fairly raised the roof and it was some time before it sub-sided so that the speaker could continue. Last night's meeting was one of the most enthusiastic of the campaign.

MICHIGAN'S GREAT WEALTH. Major McKinley's Speech to a Wolver-

"My Fellow-citizens—I am glad to wel-come to my home the people of western Michigan. I recall with pleasure the several visits I have made to the city of Grand Rapids. I remember the great assempiages of people which greeted me on each occasion, and am glad to have you at last return my frequent calls. I recall also with pleasure my attendance upon that great Republican love feast annually held in the city of Detroit on the anniversary of the birth of Washington. There is one thing that can be said about the Republican party-it can celebrate the anniversaries of all the great American statesmen, no matter to what party they may have be-longed, who stood for the country and its honor. We have no difficulty in celebrat-ing, too, with our Democratic friends the anniversary of Jeterson, Jackson and Benton. We celebrate those anniversaries with the same satisfaction that we celeto me, Republicanism, more than ever before, proud as has been its record in the past, is synonymous with patriotism, and represents all that is best in the past rec-ords and teachings of all American parties and statesmen. You come of a State of the most magnificent material resources, girt by lakes and noble rivers, and crossed and recrossed by great trunkline railroads. Michigan not only has more shipping than any other Western State, but her commerce in every other particular is of exceeding great importance. You glance at the map and you see at once the importance of her lake traffic; but did you ever think that she has within her borders over five thousand lakes, covering easily a thousand square miles and including islands of six times that territory? "And, my fellow-citizens, great as is the importance of your commerce, you are not left with that alone. You have immense advantages in both mining and manufacturing. The commerce of Detroit and Port Huron, your chief shipping points, amounts to about the millions annually. But by the to about ten millions annually. But by the census returns Michigan had invested in manufacture in 1890 about $251,000,000 and the value in production of $237,000,000. Under the census law every establishment of productive industry, including mines and factories, in which the value of the products was $200 or more, was to be reported. Michigan reported a total number of her indusestablishments of all kinds at 8,812; Michigan now, Is it in the same condition is equally prominent, with an acreage of about 14,000,000 of excellent farm lands valued at $500,000,000 and an annual product of over $91,000,000.

"And how shall we speak of Michigan's great wealth in minerals? From 1880 to 1890 she produced more than 12,000,000 bushels of salt, the greatest product of underlies 6,700 square miles of her surface. while her iron ore product is far greater than that of any other State. Suffice it to say that it was this or any other country "When we reflect the development of all this wealth is in a State of less than 60,000 square miles and among people not yet 2,500,000 in number, we can begin to realize how great is our country. This year, it seems that the same state of the early states to-day, but they have been coming since 8 o'clock this morning, and still others are waiting to be presented. This is the year when people all want to vote. They are ready now to vote. They know on which side they mean to vote and they know the party ticket they intend to vote. Why do they want to vote that ticket this year? Because they believe that involved in a Re-publican triumph is public confidence and the restoration of better times. They have had some experience in the last three years and a half and that experience has been most costly. Not a single interest in the country but has suffered. The government has suffered in its revenues and the people in their wages and the prices of their products. In fact, everything has suffered out the glorious principles of the Repubcan party. Protection, honest money, lic morals, reciprocity, the national honor, the public credit—all are emblazoned on the banner of Republicanism this year and rallying around that standard are men of parties, all races, all sections, all eds. The white man, the black man, the wage earner and the employer, the proessional man and the business man, all ave united and stand upon a common platform, which platform is for our coun-

"I have heard from your spokesman to-day what West Virginia's electoral vote this year will be for the Republican tick-et. This assurance gratifies my heart. It gratifies the heart of every lover of this country, but what I started to say there are 10,000 witnesses here to-day of your pledge that West Virginia will be found this year in the Republican column. (Cries capital invested, $251,000,000; value of materials used, $125,000,000; value of productions, $257,000,000, and 165,600 employes. The total in wages paid during the year ending June 1, 1890, was $60,000,000. You know better than I do the condition of labor in Michigan now. Is it in the same said that the same said that the same said this much and thanking you for your kind and generous attention. ou for your kind and generous attention, wish for you all a safe return to your that it was in 1890 or in 1891 or 1892? (Cries homes and that returning presperity which of 'No! no! no!') In agriculture Michigan shall bless you in them. I bid you all good afternoon.

TO SOUND-MONEY CLUBS.

Speech to Railway Employes from Michigan, Indiana and Ohio. In addressing the Columbus Railway Sound-money Club and the Michigan Cen-

"My Fellow-citizens-I cannot express in suitable words the honor I feel in receivto that time Michigan had shipped within a single decade 57,000,000 tons of iron ore worth $285,000,000. These figures are indeed startling, but bear in mind that Michigan and of the Eric system. I give hospitable railway employes of the city of Columbus and of the Erie system. I give hospitable produces (or once did) one-third of the entire American output. Then, in the production of lumber how remarkable the duction of lumber how remarkable the dividual, but to the great cause of public honor and sound currency with which to transact our business. There is would not rather work for a good road than a poor road; there is not an employe in this great audience but would rather be order to get on the pay roll the railroads must have business. You know when business is poor with the railroads some of you ness is poor with the railroads some of you are stricken from the pay roll. You have experienced that in the last three years and a half. What you are interested in, therefore, is the general prosperity of the past and it does not propose to start out on the pathway of dishonor now. We prothis year, my fellow-citizens, to dembe at work. We want every mine in the try. This is where you get your work and wages, and when these great busy industries are at work your railroads have plenty of traffic. When your railroads have plenty of traffic you have constant and steady employment at good wages. Is not that so? "Now, how are you to get back that prosnow, now are you to get back that pros-perity you once enjoyed? Some people say that the way to get it back is to debase the money of the country. Does anybody believe that? Some people seem to think that the way to get back prosperity is to strike a deadly blow at the capital of the country. Is that the way to do it? Some people seem to think that the way to put men at work is to despoil the profits of the men who employ labor. Is that the way to get work? Capital and labor are interdependent. They are not enemies. They are friends, or should be friends. Capital wants to make a profit, and when capital goes into enterprises it must necessarily employ labor, and when it has employed labor men have employment. Is not that right? You cannot start a railroad without oney. Yes, sound money at that.

"I read a statement the other day from a president of one of the great railroads of the country that there were 90,000 rail-road men thrown out of employment in the past three years, and that there were 50,000 cars lying idle between New York, Chicago the railroads want to keep them idle? No, it is because they have no traffic. Why have they no traffic to employ them? Because confidence has been destroyed and the wheels of industry have been stopped and men are waiting with anxiety and apprehension lest the further confidence and credit of the country are to be shaken and destroyed. What we want in this conntry is the return of good times. Do you think good times will come by an attempt to repudiate the debts of this government public or private? Would not that still bring greater distrust in the country? I am glad to meet Democrats and Republicans marching this year under the same banner upon which is emblazoned honest oney, good wages and law and order.

"My friends, I thank you for this visit. It is an inspiration to the cause for which we stand, and nothing could give me more gratification than to carry that flag to victory, meaning, as we know it does, that the honor and integrity of this government shall be sustained and its credit and cur-rency upheld. I thank you all and bid you

OUR INTERESTS MUTUAL.

When the Workingman Is Benefited the Farmer Prospers. In response to the congratulations of the delegation from Huntington, Pa., the Major

"My Fellow-citizens-I am glad to make acknowledgment of this visit from the citizens of Huntington, Pa. I am glad to receive the warm and earnest assurances of your spokesman of the profound interest you all feel in the triumph of Republican This is a Nation of mutual interests; Nation of reciprocal interests and obligations. All of us are more or less dependent upon each other. We cannot get on with-out our neighbors. We cannot get on withon without the employments and occupa ions of our neighbors. This old fabric of ours rests upon common and mutual interest. It is not just to say that you can benefit the State of Pennsylvania without benefiting the State of Ohio by wise legis-It is not just to say that you can benefit the North and injure the South by wise tariff legislation. What benefits one State benefits another; what benefits section benefits another. If we need any lemonstration of that we have only to point to our own history and consult our own experience. For thirty or more years, uninterrupted years, we had in this country that great doctrine of a protective tariff written into public law; and during all those years we enjoyed unprecedented the South; not only in one occupation, but in every occupation; not only in the fac-tory and the mine, but on the farm, for the farmer is prosperous when the laborer is prosperous. Prices are better for the farmer when the great consuming classes of our country are steadily employed at remunerative wages. We stand to-day for that policy. We stand for that other policy, too, that would spurn the government's pose this year, my fellow-citizens, to demmstrate to all mankind that this is a govrnment of integrity, a government of law, y law and under law. "I am glad to receive at your hands, my chairman, on behalf of Mrs. McKinley, this souvenir from the home of her ances-tors. Ancestral ties are always strong and

You have to get your employment in the great, active, busy industries of the coun- great grandfather Saxton, with my knowie of one member of that family-good old John Saxton of precious memory, who for more than fifty years was the editor of the old Canton Repository, which he founded-a paper that has never faltered in its devotion to country and Republican principles. I thank you for this call and bid you good morning.

TO A MIXED ASSEMBLAGE. Bryan's Attempt to Array

Against Class Condemned. To the combined delegation of the people of Westerville, the Ohio Wesleyan University of Delaware, students from the medical colleges, the Ohio State University of Ohio and the medical profession of Columbus, and the first voters from Brecksville, and surrounding townships, Major Mc-Kinley said:

'My Fellow-citizens-There are so many Republicans this year that we are com-pelled now and then by force of circumstances to consolidate them into one great mass. Here in this audience, as you have already heard from the spokesmen who have preceded me, are the old people of Westerville, the students of Ohio Wesn University of Delaware great State University, Chio Medical University of leyan lumbus, and the people without respect to profession from Brecksville and ad-joining townships. I bid you all hearty welcome to my home. You have a common sentiment in your hearts and a common purpose which you mean to execute by the ballot on the 3d day of November. "If there was anything needed to dispel that false and dangerous doctrine which some people are now teaching it is dis-pelled here to-day-a doctrine that would array class against class and one section of our country against the other. We have had on these grounds to-day men from more than a dozen States-wage earners miners, mill workers, farmers, professional men, commercial travelers, old folks and young folks, college bred men and men of every profession and walk in life. This great day demonstrates that this is a nation, not of class but of equal and honorable citizenship under one Constitution and government. I am glad to see you all. I am glad to know that the students of the universities are enrolled in our ranks. Every newspaper of the country, East and West, tells us that in the great colleges of the East, as in the great colleges of the West, teachers and pupils have enlisted under the banners of the Republican party in greater numbers than they have ever done before. They stand this year for country and conscience. They stand for public honor and morals, and for the supremacy of law. We will settle, for all time, this year, that this is a government by law and a government that rests upon laws made by its settle. laws made by its own free and equal citi-

"I thank you all for this call, and must ask you to excuse me from talking more that I may speak to another delegation that comes to give its assurances of devotion to our cause, which is the cause of home and country, both mine and yours."

TO L. & N. R. R. EMPLOYE

Brief Address in Which McKinley Made a Good Point. In responding to the greetings of employes of the Louisville & Nashville railway Mr. McKinley said: / "My Fellow-citizens-I cannot refrain from expressing the deep obligation I feel to the employes of the Louisville & Nashville Railway Company for their call and their generous assurance of support. Noth-ing gives me greater honor; nothing brings to me higher distinction; nothing increases my gratitude so much as to feel that I have the warm, earnest, sincere support of the men who toil. Labor is at the foundation of all our wealth and presperity. You may open up every mint of the world and coin the silver of all creation, but it would not produce the prosperity that the labor of the United States would produce had it had opportunity to work. What we want in this country, my fellow-citizens, is constant employment. You get that when the country is prosperous. We do not get it when the business of the country is depressed. What we want to do now, irrespective of party, is to adopt an industrial policy which will set every wheel in motion and light the fires in every factory of the land and then the employes of the Louisville & Nashville railroad and every other railroad will have all they can haul and all the work they can do. And now, thanking you as I do most sincerely for the gracious complimer have paid me, I bid you all good-bye."

Speech to Indianians. To the Republican Club of Lake county, Indiana, Major McKinley said: "My Fellow-citizens - You missed a very good speech in your effort to shake hands with me, and I appear in response to that speech to thank the Hobert Club of Lake county. Indiana, for its presence here today. You have a good name—Hobert—for that name is on our ticket this year. I am glad to meet my fellow-citizens of Indiana, the State of the grand old war Governor, Oliver P. Morton, and of Benjamis Harrison. And now thanking you, as I do most heartily, for the kind message of good will which you bring through your spokesman, I bid you all good afternoon." good speech in your effort to shake hands

To Cleveland Workingmen.

Mr. McKinley said to the Adams-Bagnall Electric Company employes of Cleveland: "My Fellow-citizens-I only appear long enough that I may make suitable acknowiedgement of the kind message which the Adams-Bangnall Electric Company employes bring me to-day. I am glad to know that those engaged in that company's works believe in the policies advocated by the Republican party. I am glad to know that they stand for public honor and pub-lic law; that they believe in an honest doi-lar and in the great doctrine of American protection, which encourages and developes American enterprise, skill and genius. I thank you most heartily for your com-
